SUMMARY

The 2025 NUS Education Conference was held at the Australian National University under the theme “Crisis.” Delegates from across the country gathered to engage with the current state of higher education, student activism, and broader political and social issues affecting students.

This was my first time attending EdCon. I went in hopeful that it would be a space for learning, collaboration and campaign development. While there were certainly moments that reflected this purpose, there were also many sessions that fell short due to factionalism or a lack of focus.

Despite that, I found value in attending. The better sessions were well run and showed how much potential the NUS has if it chooses to focus on supporting student unions rather than political factions. I left the conference more confident in the work we do at UWA and hopeful that the NUS can continue to evolve into a more effective national body.

DAY 1

Plenary – Education Office

The opening plenary was intended to set the tone for the conference but quickly became overshadowed by debate about international politics. Important topics were raised, but the discussion did not stay on track and many delegates left with more confusion than clarity.

Shelf Life Expired

This workshop was about universities' complicity in fossil fuel extraction through links to the North West Shelf project. Highlighted the need for divestment and accountability from university leadership. It was well researched and prompted good discussion about how student unions can pressure universities to cut these ties.

Fighting Education Cuts

This workshop addressed ongoing course cuts across the country. Delegates discussed how universities are increasingly operating like businesses and the impact this is having on the student experience. It was helpful to hear from other unions about their responses, although many are still in early stages of organising. UWA hasn't faced this issue in awhile, but it was helpful to know what patterns to look out for.

Divided We Fall, United We Conquer

Focused on building a unified broad-left movement amidst rising global far-right politics. While the concept was strong, the session lacked clear strategic direction. It was difficult to see how the discussion could be applied practically in a campus context.

Plenary – Welfare Office

A discussion of the NUS Welfare Survey and how we can improve national campaigns. It was also interesting to hear that a national survey they put out received less than 100 responses, highlighting the NUS inability to rally engagement and run large campaigns. Information like this would be helpful to student unions if they are done on scale but unfortunately it seems that our surveys receive much more engagement and interest. There was widespread agreement that the NUS needs to focus its efforts on a smaller number of campaigns and deliver them well.

Plenary – What’s Wrong with Our Universities?

Rod Lyall, a former UWA Guild Secretary, provided a thoughtful historical reflection on the decline of the higher education system. He drew attention to the increasing commercialisation of universities and how the cost of a degree has risen while quality has declined. This was one of the most grounded and informative plenaries. Interestingly this was probably the only sessions where there was no factional fighting derailing the conversation.

The People’s Inquiry into Campus Free Speech on Palestine

This session was highly relevant, especially given the current climate at UWA. Speakers shared experiences of censorship and suppression on campuses when speaking out on Palestine. The session reinforced the importance of student unions defending freedom of expression and academic dissent.

Plenary – Why the West Has Greenlit a Genocide

This plenary presented a critique of the role Western governments have played in enabling the violence in Gaza. Very interesting and important but not very new information.

Crisis Management: Successful Student Union Campaigns

This session was meant to break down why some campaigns succeed while others fail. I was very interested in this as I wanted to see success stories and how they were accomplished, however it was not very organised, unclear what the message was and didn’t include any examples of successful student union campaigns.

Kindness Across the Aisle

This was one of the most constructive sessions of the week. Delegates collaborated in small groups to identify shared goals and solutions. The format encouraged respectful discussion and highlighted how much more productive the conference could be if this tone were carried across more sessions.

The Importance of Union Education

This presentation provided an overview of union history and the value of early political engagement. Interesting but nothing extremely applicable.

Our Revolution?: An Analysis of Socialist Alternative

A critical yet open discussion about the structure, tactics, and role of SALT. While not uncontroversial, it provided insight into the motivations and strategy of one of the NUS’ most active factions. This was really just rage bait for the socialists but entertaining regardless.

DAY 3

Plenary – Women’s Office: Diversity in Education

Discussed how university courses remain gendered and segregated. Speakers shared insights on how to make STEM and other fields more accessible. A valuable panel discussion

Smash the Manosphere

Examined the rise of misogyny and the far-right online, especially among young men. Important context for understanding campus dynamics and a call to action for student unions to lead on combating this trend. Really interesting with very little factional fighting.

Plenary – The Housing Crisis

Delivered by Jordan van den Lamb about the housing crisis in Australia and the issues with policy. Housing being a very relevant issue I was keen to see what this was about not knowing the embarrassing amount of factional fighting that was about to occur. The first question that was asked by a member of unity was done in a mocking south African accent which was extremely uncomfortable to watch. Many such insults were thrown around while genuine questions from the audience were met by the socialists saying it was not relevant. Shameful display from all the factions and a waste of time.

Faith, Culture, and Belonging

A panel discussing safe spaces and multicultural inclusion. Good presentation and feedback that was grounded in the experiences of minority groups. Was a reminder to not speak for but instead listen to and uplift the voices. Highlighted the importance of student unions in upholding inclusion and mutual respect.

Why the NDIS Fails Disabled People

Challenged the idea that the NDIS is working. A sharp critique of the system and the role student unions can play in pushing for accessible health and support structures. Like many things in the NUS, interesting but not discussion that if helpful to a Guild's operation.

Societies Pricing Out Society

This was a session that looked at how financial barriers are impacting student involvement in clubs and societies, I was hoping this would be good since it was an extremely relevant topic. The examples shared confirmed that UWA is significantly ahead in terms of access and affordability. Nothing was particularly new information and the speaker weirdly kept on asking people who had questions, how much SSAF their union was getting and if it was a lot they would end up dismissing the question with 'oh you should be fine, you have so much money'??

The NUS Should Stand with the CFMEU

Made the case for aligning student unions with the labour movement more directly. This was interesting but once again not relevant to a guild's operation and was just a chance for the factions to debate about their political views

DAY 4

Plenary – The Practice of Leadership and Organising

Delivered by Stephen Donnelly, this was a valuable session in the conference. Introduced the Marshall Ganz framework for community organising. The content was clear, practical, and applicable to our work at UWA. Once again, embarrassing to see how some students treat external speaker, members of SALT were consistently interrupting with heckling and jeering. Unfortunate to see that an interesting talk and speaker were treated with such disrespect.

The Right to Protest is Being Attacked

Explored the crackdown on protest rights post-Gaza encampments. Emphasised the growing repression of dissent on campus. This was very relevant but we have not seen what a successful outcome/campaign looks like in this area

Cut Ties with Trump's America

A political presentation calling for the NUS to oppose Australia's alliance with the US. The argument was ideologically consistent but not particularly relevant to Guild operations.

Graphic Design in Political Communication

A well-delivered and practical session that focused on making political communication more effective. It was a helpful change of pace and offered tangible skills that can be applied to Guild campaigns.

Can the Centre Defeat the Right?

A tactical session debating centrist vs radical approaches to fighting the far-right. Interesting debate on political strategy but most of it was already mentioned in previous workshops

Labor's Climate Crimes

A strong critique of the Labor Government's climate inaction and support for fossil fuels. This sparked a lot of debate that was mostly factional fighting. Once again not particularly relevant to Guild operations.

Final Plenary – Queer Office

Closed the conference with a session on defending trans rights. The session was unfortunately disrupted when a trans speaker was heckled by members of Socialist Alternative. In response, all delegates except for unity and salt (who remained) walked out and continued the discussion in an another room.

KEY TAKEAWAYS

- Most of the time this conference was interesting and the opportunity to network and create relationships was helpful
- It had its moments of yelling and factional fighting, but it was also an opportunity to learn. Though it wasn't perfect it does give me hope that there is value in the NUS and what it can do.
- I do think UWA has less to learn from some aspects as we are already ahead of other unions in terms of our service provisions and abilities. 50% SSAF play a very big part in that!

SUMMARY

A fun month, with some excellent Guild events throughout that I enjoyed working on and getting to attend as well! Had a great time MCing the UWA Battle of the Bands, which was a very well attended event with sold out tickets and a few great bands that were fun to meet. I'm also excited that Food for Fines is coming up in September, it's always good to see the university taking on feedback and working productively with the Guild in small ways. Had a positive discussion with a NAUCC representative as a bit of a throwback to my time amongst RSD about the NAUCC conference and the possibility of sending the 2026 RSD President there as well. Unfortunately, have been hit with some sickness as well, so everyone make sure you have your flu jabs! Always important this time of year.

PROJECT UPDATE

Student Experience Committee Working Group

- [from April] Still waiting on UWA working group leads to define the scope of the investigation – there was one meeting I missed due to mandatory classes, but this was relayed as the general outcome of that meeting.
- No updates since previous – still waiting on UWA staff to narrow down the scope.

Student Reference Group

- Taking on a role within the student reference working group at the request of Emma and Fiona, looking to act as a student communication conduit to the larger committee this working group is a subset of.
- Working with Tenille tomorrow to set a new agenda, will see what this is then because it hasn't happened yet.

Exam Results Back

- Brought this to the Student Experience committee, and some positive feedback seemed to be received. Overall, some considerations are that this remains after the moderation process for marks, and after exam results are finalised, in order to avoid logistical concerns raised. Need to review UWA policy at some point as well to compare it to existing possibilities.
- Next SEC is next month so will see then, heard that it is being discussed in other committees too.

Food for cultural holidays

- Product of C+T meeting – need to consult Ethnocultural and PAC on what holidays would be good. Trying to provide at Guild outlets food specific to certain cultural holidays so as to allow students to have access to these foods when they might be away from home or culture.
- Meetings so far have been delayed given other commitments rearing up.

Food for fines

- Worked with Jude and Nikhi, and this one is going ahead!! Very glad to see UWA taking feedback and ideas on board. This project aims to help with cost of living and to encourage donations of essential food items instead of parking fines.

Pub Crawl Club Package

- Working with Ethan, Emilia, and Catering to bring out a package to enable clubs to use tav for pub crawls instead of Varsity or other places.

Marketing

- Worked with the marketing team to shoot some fun content for the tav and events upcoming this month. Had a lot of fun with this.

NAUCC Representative

- Working to see if we can allocate funding for the 2026 RSD President to receive a week worth of upskilling for their role next year at the conference.

PROJECT UPDATE

Golden Ticket

ALMOST DONE

- Over 1000+ golden tickets have been distributed for sem 2
- Hopefully this has encouraged more mid year club sign ups

From this line below: same as previous months

Midyear Budget Review

DONE

- Every department head has been contacted
- Adjustments have been drafted and is going to be (hopefully) approved by Guild Council this week.
- Some minor adjustments have been made and approved by finance. All changes were run by Mutya and Nikki

Free essential items in Guild Student Centre

ALMOST DONE

- Packs are available, majority have been given out via the food pantry.
- Some are available in through the living room for students that may need it
 - Security on campus have also been given a few to give to students who they might find living on campus.
- We will continue to monitor and roll out more or make adjustments as we see fit/ as more feedback comes through.

Student Initiative Portal

IN PROGRESS

- A way for student to submit suggestions to the guild and the guild to find out more about what students want, will be easy and anonymous to use.
 - Helps eliminate when students aren't sure where to go for an idea and then when the opportunity does arise for them to say, they forget or 'put on the spot'
 - Easy way to connect guild and students.
- Initial discussions with Chloe Bull have happened and been productive.
- A pilot of this form will be launched using Microsoft forms to gauge interest with students.
 - This should happen in the next few weeks
 - If enough engagement is received through the form, a more dedicated portal can be set up in the future.

Very excited for Access week in week 7!

I've had some incredible conversations with staff, both re-hashing conversations that have been moving for a while and starting new projects as students' needs and demands changes. New staff have bring a re-newed perspective and continuing staff have been open minded as the funding and regulatory environment changes.

My emails are always open!

What snacks should I put in the Access Room?

If you have any experiences or recommendations about your experiences of accessibility or inaccessibility of:

- Courses and Classes in the School of Enviromental Science and Agriculture

- The administration of UWA Connect Scholarships
- UWA Sport
- Documents produced by the university (non-academic)
- How the university alerts students to maintenance issues ie non-functional lifts, blocked paths and excessive noise

No one has spoken to me since last month about my discussion points so just keeping them very similar to last time. 😊

Thank you!

Had a busy month with academics and club commitments.

Been confirming details for the multicultural showcase with the Association of Culturally Appropriate Services, Sanskriti, ISD and Ethno

I have been dealing with multiple personal problems this month and have had to take a small step back from some of my roles to focus on my health. Hope to get back and at it soon!

PROJECT UPDATE

Multicultural Art Showcase

UWA is a melting pot of different culture and artists looking for a platform to present them. A multimodal art showcase encourages talented students to continue practicing and performing their art.

Organise an art showcase on the campus allowing students to display different forms of art and allowing them to access this diversity on campus. Possible collaboration with Akshata Jois as it is modelled after her project 'Kriti Collective 2024'

Tapestry – Honour the Past, Celebrate the Now and Inspire the Future, A Multicultural showcase was a big and beautiful success! Thank you to ISD, Ethno and the Guild for your support in this event. We had over 200 attendees and raised over $2000 for the Association of Culturally Appropriate Services (AfCAS). AfCAS works with seniors from CaLD (Culturally and Linguistically Diverse) community, to ensure that they get culturally appropriate care in their old age.

They also conduct workshops to support carers to provide support to seniors with dementia. Dementia can cause individuals to revert to their mother tongue, and for older migrants in Australia, this can lead to challenges in communication and access to care. By raising awareness, we can work towards more inclusive and culturally sensitive support. The money we have raised will give them the resources and standing to give back to our community and support those who need extra care in the society.

The event was a beautiful melting pot of different cultures. We had a lovely Italian choir of seniors living with dementia, a Chinese orchestra and dance team, a Flamenco team and an Indian dance group and band perform. Everyone left with a full heart (and stomach 😊) and a deeper connection formed through cultures from all over the world.

Thank you so much for everyone involved. Special thanks to Selina, Rei, Archit and your committees. Thank you very very much! Please enjoy some photos from the event attached below.

SUMMARY

August was a slower month in the portfolio. Main agenda item was pushing through our review of assessment working group proposals with some positive developments on that front.

Great to hear good feedback from Ed Council this month and continue our strong advocacy for students. Also seems EVA is rolling out well so I'm really happy to hear that! September will likely be a slower month for me but hoping to finish strong before December.

Student Services met this month. Neither Governance or Election Culture did.

50 per cent cap on examinations

University were again receptive to this proposal but want to do some benchmarking before a final decision is made on whether to lower the cap.

Mandatory practice examination papers for Level 1 units

Some opposition from this proposal from academics but the Guild forcefully advocated for this proposal. Agreed to discuss at new ROAWG meeting before making a final decision.

Release final examination and/or assessment marks

University were very receptive to this proposal and have committed to coding and setting up a process to send out final examination/assessment marks out! Huge win!

Centralised Marking Platform

University were very receptive to this proposal and have committed to creating and implementing a centralised marking platform!

Study Abroad Handbook

Passed this on to Insiah and the committee to work on. Got a rough draft so hopefully can finalise and publish before the end of the 112th term.

Ed Council

Developed a communications plan around the EVA Policy. Going to work with marketing and student life to make sure its accurate and looks nice and professional. Will then create posters for FacSocs and potentially a post on social media channels to inform students about the EVA.

ENGAGEMENT WITH THE UNIVERSITY

Review of Assessment Working Group

A huge meeting for the Guild to attend. We listened too and heard some other presentations from university members about various different adjustments being made to assessment policy.

The Guild then presented our briefing note which included various recommendations that the uni were very receptive too. More updates earlier in the report.

Extraordinary Meeting of the Curriculum Committee

Extraordinary meeting called to discuss and approve the introduction of new professional comprehensive courses at UWA. Also introduced a new Bachelor of Hospitality Management and a Graduate Diploma in Ocean Technology and Engineering.

Student Discipline Framework Review

Second meeting of this committee for the year. Convened to hear about the different changes that may be recommended to the Academic Policy to make it more fair for students, especially with the new Ombudsman. We then received an update on benchmarking academic integrity policies from other universities, but was agreed to wait until the next meeting to receive the comprehensive report. Then reviewed and discussed the student code of conduct, including students rights and responsibilities and the current behaviour policy at UWA.

Curriculum Framework Working Party

Brief agenda mainly focused on minors at UWA. We received a presentation from Demelza Ireland about the Minor in Women's Health, discussing why the minor has had such success and high enrolment rates and how this can be applied across the university to enhance minors at UWA.

Then received an updated on the review of minors and the next steps in this review.

Student Consultative Committee

Great to attend the second SCC for the year. The meeting agenda consisted of introductions with a new SCC Chair coming in for this meeting, as well as updates from all student leaders. From there core staff on the committee provided an update on their portfolios.

Two main agenda items were consultation around the Student Discipline Framework to give a student perspective as they go through drafting changes to that policy. Additionally got a presentation about the EVA policy and how the rollout of that is going.

DISCUSSION POINTS

Hope everyone's found their spark being back at Uni! Enjoy Semester break coming up ;)

Events ran this month:

O'Day 2 + Pop-Up Op Shop:

Enviro's O'Day 2 stall:

- Plastic Free July giveaway – over $200 of plastic-free alternatives for a student to win, sponsored by UWA Campus Management
- Plastic Free July challenge competition – UWA sponsoring 2x $200 vouchers for students who submit an article, photo or video about their plastic-free swaps
- Plastic Free July pledges for students to sign and take photos with
- Enviro stickers for students to take

O'Day 2 was a great opportunity to promote our upcoming events and promote Plastic Free July. The Pop-Up Op Shop was a massive success with heaps of students queuing up before opening. We raised $2000 for Bindaring, making our total raised this year approximately $8,000.

Woodside's North West Shelf Protest:

The Environment Department collaborated with Conservation Council of WA's Go Beyond Gas campaign to run a protest outside of Woodside's HQ, to advocate against the expansion of Woodside's North West Shelf Gas Project. The event was really great, with lots of students rocking up.

Keep Cup Library Activation:

The Environment Department handed out cookies at Catalyst café to commend students for using the keep cup library and promote Sustainable Action August. The event was supported in collaboration with UWA Grand Challenges.

Inter-Club Campus Clean Up:

The Inter-Club Campus Clean Up was an incredible success, with 112 students picking up ~225 kg of rubbish in just 45 minutes! We had 30 clubs participate, and feedback from students was fantastic. Keep Australia Beautiful WA audited the clean up, which was very helpful. The clean up was followed by some free pizza at the Tav, which definitely attracted heaps of students. I'm hoping the next Environment Officer takes this initiative on, to continue it as an annual event.

Nature Photography Walk:

The Environment Department, Science Union, Photography Club, SEEC, Co-Exist Perth and Friends of Lake Claremont hosted the annual Nature Photography Walk. We had an incredible turnout, with ~100 students attending.

We were very fortunate to have Eva Czslowski, leader of Friends of Lake Claremont speak about the flora and fauna of Lake Claremont and give us a tour of the Friends of Lake Claremont shed. Eva is an amazing environmental advocate, having won the Young Citizen of the Year for Town of Cottesloe, for founding 'Operation Carnaby' which creates artificial breeding hollows for the endangered Carnaby's Cockatoos. We were so fortunate to have her lead the nature walk.

The event ended with a lovely sausage sizzle and picnic. What an epic morning!

UWA: Divest from Fossil Fuels Protest:

Enviro hosted a Fossil Fuel Divestment protest in collaboration with AYCC UWA and Go Beyond Gas. The protest was also endorsed by NUS WA. The protest featured speeches from Victoria from Conservation Council of WA, Ollie, Sophie McNeill MLA and I. It was a great way of raising awareness to UWA that we don't want our money invested in fossil fuel companies. It was also fantastic to see so many members of Guild Council attend and support the protest.

After, we had the opportunity to hear from UWA's Investment Management Fund, Mercer. The crowd was mainly staff members, with about 5 students. Every question that was asked was related to UWA's investment in fossil fuels, not only from students, but also staff.

We were extremely disappointed to hear whilst they claimed to be "sustainable", they were still conversing with Woodside and Santos on future investments, claiming they had a just pathway to net zero. I don't see how extending the North West Shelf gas project to 2070 could possibly be sustainable. This is extremely disappointing.

The Environment Department will continue to strongly advocate for fossil fuel divestment, and plan to work with Go Beyond Gas to achieve this.

Upcoming Events:

Sustainable Transport Skate and Brekkie:

In collaboration with the UWA Rollerblading Club, Enviro will be hosting a skate and breakfast. We ran one last semester and Rollerblading had their best turn out at a morning skate. We are hoping to make it an inclusive, fun environment for beginners to try rollerblading.

Pop-Up Op Shop – Ball Boutique:

Enviro's hosting another Pop-Up Op Shop with Guild Volunteering. This time it is a 'Ball Boutique' and will be open over 2 days for students to grab their ball fit before Science Union and Guild Ball.

Corals Last Stand Film Screening:

The Environment Department is going to be screening the 'Corals Last Stand' documentary about Scott Reef and the impacts of Woodside's North West Shelf Project extension. We are hoping to have a panel of speakers around the impacts of climate change and oil extraction around coral reefs.

Project Update:

Keep Cup Library:

The Keep Cup Library has been very successful over the past month. We have been handing out cookies to promote the initiative, as part of Sustainable Action August.

Containers for Change:

Still waiting to hear back from Containers for Change about implementing a drop off point at Uni Hall. They said they'd contact us at end of July, so just waiting.

UWA's 2030 Sustainability Strategy:

I met with Geraldine from UWA Sustainability committee about the 2030 Sustainability Strategy, which I will be sent a draft to review soon. They have recently completed a waste audit, which I will also review.

SUMMARY

This month we have been super busy with midsems but we were able to successfully run our Language Workshop event where we got to engage with a bunch of cultural and language clubs! We were also thankful to be able to help with Ritika's Tapestry Showcase, which had a huge turnout and was amazing! We're now planning for Soccer World Cup and our last few events for the semester.

Now that midsemester assessments have settled down, we're continuing some of the advocacy work we have been doing, including helping to distribute the Racism @ Uni survey.

MEETINGS ATTENDED

Date	Meeting	Purpose
7/08	Language Workshop event
11/08	Damien (Sports), Italian club	Discussing the Soccer World Cup event, a collaboration with cultural clubs scheduled to take place on 12 th September.

PROJECT UPDATE

Language Week 2025 (4th-10th August)

COMPLETED

- Had a fantastic Language Workshop event on Thursday 7th August, welcoming speakers from the Japanese Studies Society, Slavic Society, Malaysian Cultural Society, German Club and Sanskriti Society to give mini workshops on different languages!
- Also had a Book Club on Thursday 31st July on the theme of 'Voice' - looking to have more of these throughout the semester.

Racism@Uni survey

ONGOING

- Met with Razanne (Curtin Student Guild Vice President of Sustainability and Welfare) to discuss the Racism@Uni survey (previously Respect@Uni) conducted by the Australian Human Rights Commission
- Met with the AHRC to voice our concerns and ensure an open dialogue that keeps students at the forefront of the study
- Survey was launched on August 11 and we've promoted it through our social media, we will continue to push to promote it

Semester 2 Events

ONGOING

- Working with the European cultural clubs and the Sports Department to host another Soccer World Cup in Week 7, with a sausage sizzle and voucher prizes for the Tavern.
- Collaborating with ISD on a games night for ISD Week

Multifaith Prayer Rooms

ONGOING

- Have reached out to the Sikh Society, Baha'i Society, Hindu Yuva for initial consultation – the main feedback we've received is that clubs are looking for quiet spaces for prayer or meditation, free from specific religious symbols to ensure inclusivity

- Have reached out to Curtin Guild about their multifaith space and advice on establishing a similar space at UWA
- Heard updates from Lisa Goldacre during the CaLD WG meeting that they are researching the University of Toronto multifaith spaces and the Monash Campus Cohesion Research project
- Their main concerns are to do with student safety and mindful inclusion of all faiths
- Looking into having temporary multifaith spaces, particularly for minority faith clubs to hold regular events before permanent rooms are established.
- Meeting with Lisa Goldacre to discuss how ethno could support the project further

Reporting Racism Guide

NO FURTHER UPDATES

- Identified an underreporting of incidents of discrimination around campus - working on a post outlining how students can report incidents of racism and discrimination directly to the university through the 'Reporting Inappropriate Behaviour' form
- Also working with PAC & PCS on a separate survey for reporting anti-Palestinian racism

PROJECT UPDATE

Ensuring UWA cuts its ties with Israeli institutions

It seems that the multiple stakeholder meetings that have been had with the university executive, whilst a step in the right direction, are ultimately at a functional standstill at the moment as the university has made it clear it is not willing to take the steps that Palestinian students, with the help of the Guild, have been advocating for.

It was a pleasure to hold the sausage sizzle as a part of the UWA Ponytail Project (although the hair chopping was not possible) alongside the Relay for Life team who sold fresh daffodils and merch for Daffodil Day. I am grateful for the opportunity to work with supportive individuals who are keen to make a difference where they can. It's great to see what we can achieve when we work together.

PROJECT UPDATE

Mirror Mirror on the Wall

IN PROGRESS - no further update.

UDUB Run Club

Ponytail Project

Unfortunately I was not able to hold the full Ponytail Project with hair chopping/raffle prize draw due to a few reasons. However, I was still able to hold a sausage sizzle to help raise money for Cancer Council. This was possible thanks to the collaboration with the Volunteering and Relay for Life team. We were able to sell 200 sausages and drinks on the side – it was great to see students keen to support the cause in their snag/drink purchases.

PROJECT UPDATE

Expansion and Protection of Common Lunch Hour

- Thinking of reaching out to faculty societies to see how much of a problem common lunch hour classes were this semester to provide evidence to the university.

Cameron Hall Accessibility

- No updates.

Students for Sensible Drug Policy

- Students for Sensible Drug Policy (SSDP) is a national organisation trying to work for the government to implement more sensible policies around drugs.
- The organisation runs a program where student unions can purchase bulk drug testing kits at cost price and the organisation will also run workshops educating students on how to use them.
 - This is in place already at the University of Melbourne.
- In combination with Harm Reduction WA, we could also run workshops on teaching students how to party safe.
- I haven't had any further updates from SSDP or Nikhi recently about this project but now that university has resumed I plan to get onto this more.

NUS 'My Future, Our Voice' Campaign

- Unfortunately, the materials went missing so I was unable to distribute them. Please let me know if you know what happened.

DISCUSSION POINTS

Per my last report, the WA University Sector Review has indeed taken much of my time in my roles beyond the Guild. University need serious reforms, but these reforms need to come with extensive student centred consultation, with students, to produce student focused outcomes that improve our educational experiences and outcomes, not for corporate greed.

SUMMARY

August has been a month of planning; we have been busy with Battle of the Bands Which will be hosted Oct 1st. We have a good idea for what September is to hold with a potential IC Pool Tournament and Lawn Bowls following.

The Department has continued to liaise with student leadership, college administration and Guild staff to foster relationships and to adequately plan for our upcoming events next semester.

September brings many new ideas such as a first ever IC Pool tournament. Our team is excited for the upcoming events. The Residential Students' Department will continue to deliver for the residents of College Row in September and beyond!

We have set the date for this as Oct 1st. The contract has been written up with Metros and ready to sign. We are excited for this as it is very anticipated by college row.

Our team is excited to see the development for our Semester 2 events such as IC Pool, hopefully to be hosted in September, and IC Lawn Bowls.

I am still unsure what the Cleaning Contract budget line refers to, but it may be from cleaning costs from tenants in the Guild Village.

Additional expenditures have not appeared on the Actual vs Budget screenshots. This includes expenditures from running the Sem 2 O-Day as well as the Semester 2 Special Project Grants. Both expenditures should appear in SOC's finances in next month's report.
